PAST WEEK WAS COLD AND DRY

Des Moines, June 9.—The past week was unseasonably cold, and over the larger part of the state much drier than usual. The daily mean temperature ranged from 6 to 8 degrees below the normal. Light frost occurred on low ground in the northern counties on the morning of the 7th, but no material damage was done. The rainfall was generally light, but copious to heavy showers occurred in the Des Moines valley on the 5th. The conditions were favorable for field work, and rapid progress was made in cultivating corn. Practically all of the early planting has been plowed once, and much of it a second time. Small grain and grass, especially spring seeding of timothy and clover have made good growth, but the hay crop will not be up to the normal. Clover cutting will begin in the southern counties during the coming week, with prospects of a light yield. Cherries and plums promise a fairly good crop but the "June Drop" of apples is heavy on some varieties.

Southwest District

Montgomery (Red Oak)—Rain, .31; week mostly cloudy and cool, splendid for work; vegetation making a fair growth most of corn cultivated the first time; stand fair to good.

Adams (Corning)—Rain, trace; ideal weather for small grain; too cool for corn; strawberries producing more than ever before, and blue grass pastures were never better; meadows improving; early planted potatoes promising.

Taylor (Bedford)—Rain 1.26; wheat looking fine; pastures good; most of the corn has been plowed once.

Page (Northboro)—Rain .23; replanting still progressing, much corn shows poor stand; winter wheat headed nicely; oats not the best are yellow.

Section Director.
